

Attention State Workers

Anthem Insurance Company is using our premium dollars to pay for advertisements that lie about the Connecticut Health Care Partnership bill the legislature recently passed.

State employee unions and others have supported this bill because:

- It can increase our negotiating leverage with insurers as we strive to guarantee quality, affordable health care for our members,
- It offers municipalities and small businesses the option of joining with us to keep costs down and provide health security for Connecticut's families.

As part of their efforts to protect their marketing schemes and the insurance scam operated by the CT. Business and Industry Association (CBIA), Anthem is trying to blackmail the state and say that costs will increase by $24 million for the state. This is FALSE.

If Anthem does not want to cover municipal, small business, or non profit employees at the rates charged under the State Health Care Plan, they can refuse to participate in the proposed Connecticut Health Care Partnership, and just keep their existing state employee and retiree members. Although, you would think that any well run insurance company would want more customers. Other companies may want to want to cover Connecticut residents.

Call Christine Cappiello at Anthem and tell her to quit lying about the Health Partnership bill and to stop bullying our elected officials @ 860-424-2287.

Call Governor Rell at 800 406 1527 and tell her to let Connecticut's working families have the same health care that she does and sign the Partnership bill.
